Techniques: Flat Peyote Stitch Tube Bead

Create a beaded bead using Delicas, thread and a needle. Make several to incorporate into a bracelet or necklace.

Beading Techniques > Bead Weaving Techniques > Flat Peyote Stitch Tube Bead

Materials

- Seed Beads
- Size D Beading Thread or FireLine Braided Bead Thread

Tools

- Size 10 or 12 Beading Needles
- Scissors
- Perfect End Thread Burner

Note: We used size 11 Delicas for this technique. They fit perfectly together, like bricks, with this technique.

Step 1
Create an even count flat peyote piece that has an even number of rows. This piece is 10 beads wide by 12 rows.

Step 2
Bring both sides of the peyote piece together. The outer beads should be staggered so they will fit together like bricks.

Step 3
Go up through the first bead on the right side of the tube.

Step 4
Go up through the second bead on the left side of the tube.

Step 5
Go through the third bead on the right side of the tube.

Step 6
Go through the fourth bead on the left side of the tube.

Step 7
Go up through the fifth bead on the right side of the tube.

Step 8
Go up through the sixth bead on the left of the tube.

Step 9
Go up through the seventh bead on the right of the tube.

Step 10
Go up through the eighth bead on the left of the tube.

Step 11
Go up through the ninth bead on the right of the tube.

Step 12
Go up through the tenth bead on the left of the tube.

Step 13
Go back down through the tenth bead on the right side of the tube.

Step 14
Step down to the next bead and go back through that bead. Continue passing your needle back down through the beads in a step-like fashion, exiting on the other side of the tube bead.

Step 15
Cut the thread.

Step 16
Clean up the ends of your thread, using a Perfect End Thread Burner. Burn, or melt, the end of your thread until the end is no longer visible.

Step 17
Congratulations! You have completed a flat peyote stitch tube bead!
